The GT4 and MT2, lamps intend that a succession of conical, stitched cardboard lampshades be used in spaces where a warm and generous vertical light projection is desired. Its family consists of the Basic and Basic Minimal table lamps.

The GT4 model was originally designed in 1983 for the Bar Sísísí, a famous Barcelona late night bar in the eighties. At a time when international trends prevailed with lamps containing tubular metal structures and halogen bulbs, Gabriel Ordeig Cole (co-founder of Santa & Cole) sought to create a warmer alternative with the use of stitched cardboard. The aesthetics put forth challenged the dominant fashion at the time, as it supported a warmer modernity that valued craftsmanship.
