

SANTA & COLE

Small, independent and global

Santa & Cole is a small, independent and global editor of design products. With roots in Barcelona, our lighting and furniture, as well as the recent addition of art works, are distributed in more than 85 countries

Since 1985 we have been committed to creating quality products that improve our coexistence with the environment in our public and private life, at home or in the office. Sharing our way of experiencing material culture

We are editors

Creating a catalogue involves establishing a criterion and sticking to it. Editing means publishing a work, generally authored by someone else. It is a daily choice: 'yes' to this and 'no' to that. We select, take risks and bring to light well designed products, works by our authors, whose authorship is protected and registered.

At Santa & Cole, as we edit, we imagine spending our entire lives with any of our products.

Catalogues

At Santa & Cole we aim to promote well-being through the objects that surround us, for which purpose our selection involves careful judgement.

Our catalogue timeline covers almost ninety years of design history. Lamps and pieces of furniture created in very different contexts but with an extraordinary emotional proximity emanating from the careful selection of materials and our obsession with light.

In 2021, we added works of art to our catalogue. Our art selection features artists of very different kinds: a collection of original works, series or Neoseries, always respecting intellectual property by means of authenticity certificates.

Product adaptations

We can adapt a product from our catalogue to the requirements of the project either in the customisation of materials, sizes, formats or colours.

We have a department of lighting projects and interior design to advise you on your project decisions. We provide the necessary tools and documentation, including samples, lighting studies and technical dossiers (photometrics, CAD, Revit, among others).

In case of requiring any product modification for your project, contact us so we can study your needs.

Quality and responsibility

We prefer to speak of responsibility, rather than sustainability, which implies a willingness to improve, not just to sustain. We are committed to a material culture that is timeless, honest and durable. Our products are designed to be passed on from generation through their design and quality, they are resistant, repairable and, when the time comes, recyclable.

We strengthen the societies of which we are part by caring for the well-being of our community. We subcontract our production to the best industrial craftsmen, giving each piece the utmost care. Highly technical in some aspects, quintessentially human in others, we treasure a great cultural heritage that we take care to pass on.

We are moved by quality rather than quantity, unhurried, without pressure for novelty. We comply with rigorous internal standards, as well as ISO 9001, 14001 and the necessary international certifications such as CE and UL.

Flashing projects

Santa & Cole has helped to improve coexistence in a variety of public and private spaces. Projects of very different kinds feature our lighting installations: cultural, restaurants and catering, institutional, residential and retail establishments alike
